By BRAD CHADWICK

THE boss of a VEGAN burger company was arrested after he allegedly chomped down on a man's nose during a road rage scrap outside a football match. Doug Ramsey, a high-up at plant-based food firm Beyond Meat, is said to have sunk his gnashers into the other fan's hooter following a minor car bump outside the game.

UK weighs up joining a 'new EU'

THE UK is weighing up whether to attend a new European political "club of nations" next month.

The first meeting of the "European Political Community" is due to be held in Prague in early October.

Downing Street said it wants to see more detail on the summit before Prime Minister Liz Truss commits to attending it and no final decision has been made.

The European Political Community is an idea championed by the French President Emmanuel Macron (above).

He proposed it, in May, as a "new space" for co-operation.

Mr Macron suggested the group could discuss security, energy and transport as well as the movement of people, particularly the young.

The broad intention is to establish a forum that goes beyond the immediate 27 EU member states.

Leicester cops stay on patrol

POLICE say they are continuing "proactive patrols" in Leicester after rioting between Muslims and Hindus in the city.

Tensions involving mainly young men in the rival communities saw unrest on Saturday night.

A group of 25 officers and a police dog were injured, with 47 people arrested and one jailed.

Leicestershire Police said no new incidents of disorder had been reported since.

Amos Noronha, 20, of Leicester, was jailed for 10 months on Monday after he pleaded guilty to possession of an offensive weapon.

TRUSS: WE'RE STILL RIGHT BEHIND UKRAINE

LIZ Truss is committing to spend at least £2.3billion next year on military aid to help Ukraine fend off Vladimir Putin's invasion.

The Prime Minister pledged the UK will match or exceed the record support given to Volodymyr Zelensky's "inspirational" troops.

Ms Truss announced the support as she prepared to fly to New York, where she will use a United Nations summit in the US to rally support in helping Ukraine fight Russia.

She will also rally world leaders to end energy dependence on Putin's gas as he turns the taps off on the Nord Stream 2 pipeline.

"By turning off the taps of this pipeline, Putin has consigned millions of people in Europe to a colder and more difficult winter," the PM said before departing for the US.

"Too many lives - in Ukraine, in Europe and around the world - are being manipulated by a dependence on Russian energy. We need to work together to end this once and for all."

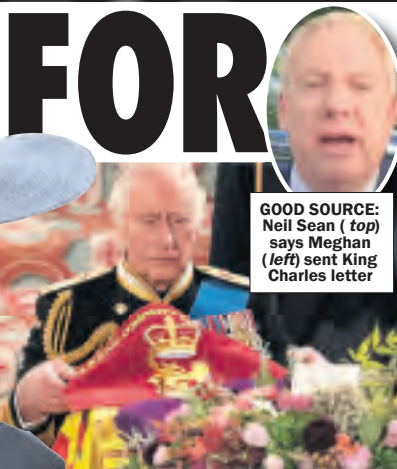

She praised the success of Mr Zelensky's troops in seizing back around 1,150 square miles that had been captured by the Russians as she pledged to at least match last year's military aid.

The PM said: "Ukraine's victories in recent weeks have been inspirational. Time and time again these brave people have defied the doubters and showed what they can do when given the support they need."

MEG BEGS FOR 'CLEAR THE AIR' CHAT WITH KING

Secret letter to monarch - claim

By COLIN HURST
news@sundaysport.co.uk

THE Duchess of Sussex is said to have requested a 'one-to-one' meeting with King Charles to heal rifts before her departure to California with Harry after the Queen's funeral.

Neil Sean, an entertainment correspondent who has appeared on NBC News, said he had heard from a "very good source" that the American actress had sent a letter requesting a private conversation with the King.

Mr Sean claims that Meghan wants to "clear the air" amid reports the couple will fly back to the US as soon as they can to see their children, Archie, three, and Lilibet, one.

The Sussexes were believed to be in Windsor yesterday after the extraordinary state funeral and burial of the Queen on Monday.

"She'd now like before they return back to California to have a one-to-one audience with King Charles III," Sean said in a video posted to YouTube, that has already had around 300k views.

"That's right - a Meghan one-to-one with King Charles. You heard correct. It's a very brave move from Meghan herself," he adds.

Detailing the content of the letter, he said: "It would be an opportunity to clear the air, pull the rights from wrongs and explain some of the rationale behind what they've been doing over the last two years."

"Now, you know, you have to admire Meghan's self-belief, whatever you think."

However, Sean warned it remains unclear if the letter will be enough for the couple to make amends with the Royal family, adding: "Truthfully, we have no idea if this is going to go forward."

Sean said it was customary to request the King's presence through a letter, saying: "This is how you write to the King through his equerry, and of course that's passed on."

On Monday, the Prince of Wales and Harry put aside their feud for a united front to remember the monarch, and again showed that they could at least be on speaking terms as the two brothers interacted with each other in the chapel at Windsor Castle.

At the end of the day, Harry was seen puffing his cheeks as he got into a car with Meghan, following an emotional time.

While William and Harry have put aside their disagreements for royal events in recent days, fears over the content of Harry's upcoming memoir continue to cast a cloud over their relationship - especially following the bombshell interview he and Meghan gave to Oprah Winfrey in March last year, when they accused an unnamed royal of racism.

Rumours of a rift between the brothers first emerged in 2019 when they divided their households following various disagreements about Harry's role, but their feud deepened amid the fallout from the Megxit saga in 2020.

However, the death of the Queen has seen the sibling rivals shelve their differences, with William and Kate joined in recent days by Harry and Meghan for the first occasions in more than two years, since Commonwealth Day back in March 2020.

McCanns lose court challenge

MISSING Madeleine McCann's parents, Kate and Gerry (above), have lost the latest stage of their legal battle over comments made by retired Portuguese detective Goncalo Amaral.

Lawyers for the couple had argued Portuguese authorities had breached their right to a private and family life in the way the courts there dealt with their libel claims against Mr Amaral.

He claimed in a book, TV documentary, and newspaper interview that the McCanns were involved in their daughter Madeleine's disappearance.

The court found that the couple's reputation had been damaged by the fact that they were made official suspects in the case for a short time, rather than Mr Amaral's comments.

On May 3, 2007, Madeleine, aged three, vanished from her bedroom in the flat her family were staying in at the Praia da Luz resort in Portugal while her parents ate with friends at a nearby restaurant.

The McCanns now have three months to appeal the decision.

Culture Sec to look at C4 sale

LIZ Truss's Government is re-examining the business case for the sale of C4, Culture Secretary Michelle Donelan has confirmed.

She said: "We are looking especially at the business case for the sale of C4 and making sure that we still agree with that decision, and that is what I am doing."

"I'm the type of politician that bases their decisions on evidence... that bases their decisions on listening, and that's what I will be doing over the coming weeks."

"I will take that approach when it comes to C4 and every aspect of my brief."

HOLLY: WE WOULD NEVER JUMP QUEUE

CRITICISM: Holly and Phil at Westminster

HOLLY Willoughby and Phillip Schofield have insisted they would "never jump a queue" as they addressed their visit to see the Queen lying in state.

The pair received criticism from some on social media after they appeared inside Westminster Hall on Friday without having joined the long public line.

Speaking on yesterday's episode of This Morning, Holly said: "Like hundreds of accredited broadcasters and journalists we were given official permission to access the hall."

"It was strictly for the purpose of reporting on the event for millions of people in the UK who have not been able to visit Westminster in person.

"The rules were that we would be quickly escorted around the edges to a platform at the back. In contrast, those paying respect walked along a carpeted area beside the coffin and were given time to pause."

"None of the broadcasters and journalists there took anyone's place in the queue and no-one filed past the Queen."

"We of course respected those rules. However, we realise it may have looked like something else, and therefore understand the reaction. Please know that we would never jump a queue." And Phil agreed.

HOUSE OF THE DRAGON BABE TALKS ABOUT THAT BROTHEL SCENE...

There were people 69-ing for 12 hours!

SHOCKED:
Milly plays
Rhaenyra

By SUZIE SHELTON
news@sundaysport.co.uk

HOUSE of the Dragon star Milly Alcock has spoken out about the 'shocking' experience of filming scenes for the series in a brothel.

And she claims the extras were in sex positions for up to 12 hours!

The actress, 22, who plays Rhaenyra Targaryen in the Game of Thrones spin-off, said she felt "overdressed" while recording racy scenes while surrounded by totally naked people for a full day.

She said: "There were extras who we had just met who were 69-ing for 12 hours.

Gnarly

"It's pretty gnarly, we felt pretty overdressed because everyone else was nude."

In the fourth episode of the HBO show, her character Rhaenyra is taken to the Westeros capital of King's Landing where she visits a brothel with her uncle Daemon (Matt Smith), where the pair share a kiss.

Milly had no idea what to expect as the director, Clare Kilner, ensured the first time she set eyes on the brothel location was when she arrived to film her scenes.

She explained: "That was our first time walking through the brothel, and he's guiding her through the room with all of these other bodies.

"That was quite shocking. You're like, 'This is kind of weird and silly'."

She praised former Doctor Who star Matt for making her feel comfortable during the scenes, adding that the pair had an intimacy coordinator to help them perform convincingly.

It comes after Milly revealed she was discouraged from meeting Emma D'Arcy, who plays the older version of her character.

Milly also said she had never seen Game of Thrones while she went through many rounds of auditions via Zoom, and revealed she was "shocked" when learning how pivotal her role was.

She also revealed she got to catch up over FaceTime with other stars of the series, though director Miguel Sapochnik discouraged her from interacting with Emma D'Arcy.

WALES HITS TOURISTS WITH TAX

VISITORS booking stays in Wales could face a tourism tax, regardless of where they have travelled from, the Welsh government has said.

A public consultation will consider if overnight visitors should pay a levy on top of their holiday costs.

The document reveals, if introduced, the tax would be applied to campers as well as Welsh people holidaying within Wales.

The Welsh government said the tax would support "sustainable tourism".

Some in the tourism industry fear it would put off visitors already cutting back due to higher bills, and a charge could hit businesses struggling with rising bills.

Oil's well that ends well for perv Hefner

PLAYBOY pervert Hugh Hefner insisted on using baby oil rather than lubricant during sex, two of his former 'bunnies' have claimed.

Holly Madison, 44, and Bridget Marquardt, 48, made the allegations on a podcast, called Girls Next Level, examining the sex-pest publisher.

The pair were two of warped Hefner's three main girlfriends during the early 2000s.

Madison said: "Hef would use baby oil as lube. I don't recommend this. It is an infection waiting to happen."

"It's disgusting. I don't know what his hang-up was with it."

"It took it to the point where I was constantly irritated."

"Hef would argue with me and be like: 'Well people use baby oil on babies.'"

"And I'm like, 'Yeah, on their skin. Not internally. You're not supposed to put it there,'" Madison added.

Strike sends Tory Party off the rails

A RAIL union is to hold strikes that will disrupt the Tory Party conference next month.

Aslef has confirmed train drivers at 12 companies will stage fresh strikes on October 1 and 5, scuppering travel plans for the Tory faithful who are set to gather in Birmingham.

A strike planned for last week was called off as a mark of respect following the Queen's death.

Aslef said it is in for the "long haul" as the rail disputes remain deadlocked.

General secretary Mick Whelan said: "We don't want to go on strike but the train companies have been determined to force our hand."

"They are telling train drivers to take a real-terms pay cut."

"With inflation now running at 12.3% - and set, it is said, to go higher - these companies are saying that drivers should be prepared to work just as hard, for just as long, but for considerably less."

BMA urges docs to charge £250 an HOUR

THE British Medical Association (BMA) has come under fire for urging NHS consultants to charge at least £250 per hour for overnight shifts.

In the summer, the BMA published a "rate card" guide for NHS consultants in England on how much to charge their employers for non-contractual work.

It said consultants should charge a minimum of £150 per hour for extra work on weekdays from 7am to 7pm, £200 for 7pm to 11pm weekdays, and £250 per overnight hour from 11pm to 7am.

Weekends from 7am to 11pm should be charged at £200 as a minimum.

One trust chief said: "The BMA appear to be operating like football agents and pushing up the rates based on their own egos rather than their members' wishes."

SEEMS HE DOESN'T MIND THE TASTE OF MEAT AFTER ALL!

NOSE BAG: Ramsey flipped after the football match

THE boss of a VEGAN burger company was arrested after he allegedly chomped down on a man's nose during a road rage scrap outside a football match.

Beyond Meat boss Doug Ramsey faces charges connected to the unusual incident that was sparked from an altercation inside a car park following the Uni of Arkansas football win over Missouri State at the Razorback Stadium.

Ramsey, 53, was attempting to leave in his car when a driver in a Subaru nudged in front of him and made contact with his front passenger side tyre.

He then allegedly jumped out of his car and "punched through the back windshield of the Subaru," which led to the Subaru driver then leaving his car, according to police.

Ramsey is accused of punching the Subaru driver and biting his nose so hard he ripped "the flesh on the tip" of it.

The Beyond Meat chief also threatened to kill the man, the police report alleged.

When an officer arrived at the scene shortly after 10pm, he found "two males with bloody faces".

He reportedly faces charges of terroristic threatening and third-degree battery.

Trail of slime leads to snail smuggling op

CUSTOMS officials say a trail of slime led them to a stash of almost 100 giant African land snails and other items hidden inside bags at an airport. Staff at Dusseldorf airport in Germany stumbled over one of the snails on a baggage truck and initially thought it was a toy, until it started slowly moving.

By following the trail left by the Sins snail, they found a bag with a hole, with another snail already peeping out of it.

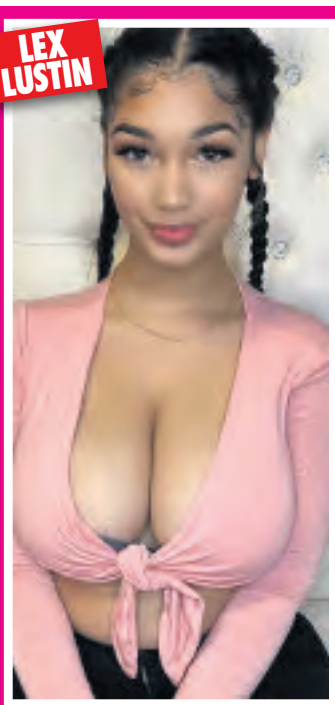

In total, officials found six bags containing 93 giant snails, 62lbs of fish and smoked meat, and a suitcase full of meat.

All had been imported from Nigeria and were destined for an African goods store in western Germany.

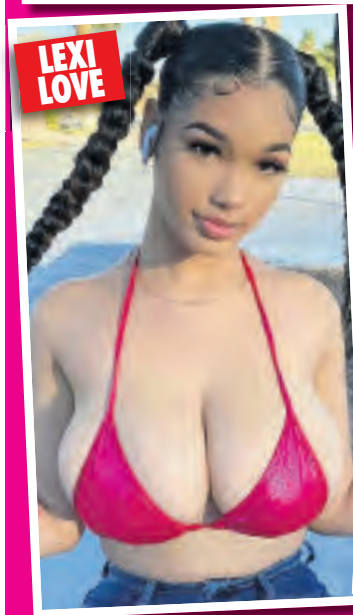

The snails were handed to animal rescue workers and the meat was destroyed.

By BRAD CHADWICK
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A WOMAN, 41, danced nude in front of a 14-year-old boy, sat on his lap, made him touch her boobs and fanny, and had sex with a man in front of him.

Heather Linn Talcott, of Wichita Falls, Texas, pleaded guilty to one count of indecency with a child by exposure.

She received four-years' probation, while four counts of indecency with a child by contact were dismissed.

A condition of Talcott's sentence will require her to register as a sex offender, remain more than 1,000ft away from any school, and refrain from being romantically involved with anyone under 18, or with children under 18.

She is also prohibited from having any contact with the victim, who is now over the age of 18.

Talcott is also required to install monitoring software on her computer, give police access to all of her online accounts, and she will be prohibited from owning electronics capable of accessing the internet without the court's approval.

During the length of her sentence,

Talcott is prohibited from the use or possession of alcohol or drugs, and must avoid places where alcohol is consumed and sold.

She's also ordered to stay in Wichita County and complete 160 hours of community service.

In May 2016, the boy said he was on a weekend visit at a residence where Talcott lived with John Paul Thomas, Talcott's co-defendant.

The victim told police that Thomas and Talcott were celebrating and drinking and were also watching a computer chat site where people were seen on the screen "doing nasty stuff".

Cops said the victim told them Talcott took off her clothes and began dancing in front of him, sat on his lap and grabbed his hands, and made him touch her.

He also said Talcott and Thomas later engaged in sexual intercourse on the other end of the couch he was sitting on.

Thomas, who is charged with indecency with a child, has a case set for a jury trial in December.

ARE SPACE ALIENS HELPING UKRAINE WIN THE WAR?

HELPING HAND: Alien spacecraft sighting (below) and (above) Zelensky

By ALEK BABICH news@sundaysport.co.uk

UKRAINE'S fightback against the Russian invaders has been hailed as OUT OF THIS WORLD ...

And now it's been suggested that President Volodymyr Zelensky's brave battlers may actually be getting help from SPACE ALIENS!

Ukrainian astronomers say the skies over their war-torn country are crowded not only with Russian missiles, but a large number of UFOs.

Claims

The surprising claims were outlined in research published by the Main Astronomical Observatory of Ukraine's National Academy of Science.

The paper – Unidentified area phenomena I. Observations of events – claims researchers have detected numerous UFOs from two meteor observation stations in Kyiv and the village of Vinarivka, 75 miles outside the capital.

The authors wrote: "We see them everywhere. We observe a significant number of objects whose nature is not clear. Flights of single, group,

Bizarre ET theory after UFOs spotted over Kyiv and squadrons of the ships were detected, moving at speeds from three to 15 degrees per second."

Ukrainian scientists involved in the study described two different types of UFOs, which they call "cosmics" and "phantoms."

According to the paper, a "cosmic" is a luminous object that appears brighter than the background of the sky, while a "phantom" is a dark object with "a completely black body that does not emit and absorbs all the radiation falling on it."

The main characteristic of the UFOs observed by Kyiv's astronomers is their extremely high speed, which can only be detected using very specialised equipment.

"The eye does not fix phenomena lasting less than one-tenth of a second," the study said. "It takes four-tenths of a second to recognise an event. Ordinary photo and video will also not capture the UFO."

"To detect unidentified aerial phenomenon, you need to fine-tune the equipment... shutter speed, frame rate, and dynamic range."

Zooming

Using video cameras with fine-tuned shutter speed, frame rate and range positioned at the two meteor observation stations, researchers said they were able to record the unknown objects zooming through the sky.

A composite image of a "phantom" included in the paper shows the unidentified dark object moving through space.

A source said: "Coupled with the astonishing bravery of the Ukrainian people, help from space aliens could explain the Russian retreat."

"Even Moonmen hate the dirty Russians!"

#MY SEX FANTASY

'I love starring in sexy video shows for my fella!'

MY favourite sexual fantasy is to be watched while I'm having sex or having some solo fun.

I love my body and I'm not ashamed to be a highly sexual person. You could say I'm a show off! I'm definitely an exhibitionist.

I've always loved to get my fella to sit back while he watches me play with myself. That's such a turn on for me and he loves it too.

When we're apart, I'm always sending him little video clips of me. I might be rubbing sun cream into my boobs or using a vibrator on myself.

He often has to work away and we have video sex. It makes me cum so much when I know the camera is on me.

I told him just the other day that I'd find it such a thrill for us to get intimate while streaming it over the internet for others to watch.

I'd like to do it anonymously, with is wearing face masks to hide our identities.

Then we could be as filthy as we like. We could take requests from our viewers.

I'm getting turned on just thinking about this... I need to go and make a naughty video!

Commuter spots train w*nk perv

AN eagle-eyed commuter spotted a trainspotter perv standing at the side of a railway, furiously masturbating as trains passed by.

The traveller managed to film the disturbing incident in Sydney, Australia (above) – zooming in as the man tried to hide behind an electricity box.

The video shared to social news site Reddit shows the perv in the middle of masturbating in bushland, just yards from a residential area. “Masturbator alert!” was the caption posted to Reddit.

“Look at this guy,” the man can be heard commenting behind the camera.

“Literally just settled in at home after work,” the man added.

The commuter said he reported the incident to the police.

Obscene exposure carries a fine and a maximum of six months in prison in New South Wales.

As shocked Reddit users took to the online comment section to add their own commentary, one wrote: “Is he pleasuring himself... to trains?!”

Fact me!

WHEN Hitler visited Paris during World War II, the French cut the lift cables on the Eiffel Tower so he would have to climb the steps if he wanted to reach the top.

Nude burglar's rooftop drama

A NAKED burglar found on the roof of a house is now in the loony bin.

A couple got a shock when they returned to their home in Dallas, Texas, and found a naked man inside the property.

They called police and when officers arrived, the intruder had climbed up onto the roof of the one-storey house.

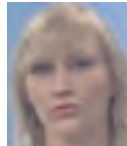

Trying to escape, the man came down and ran for it – crossing a creek that runs through the neighbourhood.

Before cops could catch him, he climbed up a tree but was eventually talked down and later taken to a nearby hospital to get checked out.

Despite all that climbing and jumping in his birthday suit, the man was unhurt.

When the hospital release him, he will be taken to jail on a burglary charge.

JESUS CHOPPED OFF HIS LEG WITH AN ELECTRIC SAW

DUE IN COURT: Sandy (left) and Shannon

Troubled man and wife arrested by cops

A MAN who claimed to be JESUS chopped off his own leg with an electric saw – in front of his young daughter.

Shannon Cox, 48, and his wife, Sandy, 30, were both taken into custody and charged with endangering the welfare of a child.

According to a probable cause affidavit submitted in Boone County Circuit Court, Arkansas, deputies with the Boone County Sheriff's Office responded to an emergency call regarding a male with an amputated leg.

At the scene, the first deputy to make contact with Shannon said he found the man “lying in front of the residence naked and missing a portion of his right leg”.

When the cop asked Shannon how he'd got the injury, Shannon said: “With a chop saw.” The other portion of Shannon's leg was in place, still on the saw, and there was a lot of blood spatter on the floor and walls of the home, and on the saw.

Shannon was quickly airlifted to a nearby hospital for treatment.

An investigator with BCSO's Criminal Investigation Division also noted: “Located outside the residence I noticed a white four door car with the bonnet up.”

“There was a 20lb propane cylinder laying on top of the battery and an Shannon's driver's licence.”

“I also noted there were ashes inside the vehicle and the rear passenger window was broken out.”

During her police interview, Sandy said that Shannon had been “acting odd” all day prior to amputating his own leg.

She said he was telling her that he was Jesus Christ and that she needed to get right with the Lord. Sandy said he then became violent towards her and said he was Satan.

He told Sandy that he was going to twist her head off and continued to make verbal threats.

Sandy said she left the residence in the evening because she was scared Shannon would kill her.

She went to a friend's but left her five-year-old daughter at the house, who cops claim “was still in a state of shock” after having seen her dad saw his leg off.

Shannon and Sandy were both released after posting bail and are due in court next month.

DISHY Dua Lipa's latest stage outfit was so snug around the gusset that many observers insisted they could clearly see where the axe fell.

The 26-year-old was performing in Bogota, Colombia, as part of her Future Nostalgia tour when she wore a tight green all-in-one number.

One drooling fan yelped: “I am sure I can see the soft recess of her heavenly slot... and I've spun ked in my pants!”

NAUGHTY Nikki Ann has explained the time kinky role play led to a 24-hour sex marathon – and a BROKEN bed!

The Blackpool beauty lifted the lid on her dirtiest ever weekend and said it all began when her fella booked them into a posh hotel in Manchester.

Nickie said they both pretended to be complete strangers – going from chatting in a bar to heading back to their hotel suite for a lust-fuelled “one-night stand”.

The 32E stunna confessed: “I thought the whole thing was going to be a bit embarrassing and totally cringe-making, to be honest.

“But trying role play for the first time was a total revelation.

“I had the best sex of my life – it was like we’d just met, but still knew each other intimately in the bedroom.

“We locked the doors of the hotel room and stayed under the duvet for 24 hours.

“I lost count of the amount of times I orgasmed – and we even broke the bed!”

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

Forget Autumn, it'll be another 'crisis'

NORMALLY, we would admit it's simply September.

And hopes of the mysterious Indian summer that never comes are slowly drifting away.

Normally, we would watch as the leaves turn brown and drop from the trees, remembering the days when we gleefully kicked through piles of them in our cheap Wellington boots.

True, there was the occasional lump of dog turd lurking beneath the leaf banks.

Or, if really unlucky, a sloppy, slippery squish.

But there were also conkers, and acorns, and pinecones, and those seed things with wings you could toss into the biting breeze, to watch them helicopter down to the ground again.

In the ancient, sepia-tinted times of three long years ago – let's call it 'Before COVID' – we would call this "autumn".

Three months or so, watching nature renew itself.

Flowers drooping, leaves dropping, trees standing starkly bare.

But unless we give ourselves a serious kick up the arse, it won't be "autumn" or – spit – "fall" for much longer.

Because you know what's coming if we don't...

THE LEAF CRISIS.

Eco-zealot

It's surely just a matter of hours before The Guardian publishes a 30,000-word sermon by an eco-zealot called Captain Moonbat, mansplaining just how bad The Leaf Crisis will be.

The headline: "RACIST TORIES FUEL ALL-KILLING FASCIST PLANT-BASED GENOCIDE."

The story below will preach how those who don't live in spider webs beneath motorways and dare to have a garden with trees in it are somehow responsible for the coming Armageddon.

Because when leaves fall, it means they're dead.

Dead leaves naturally decay, and decayed plant matter becomes peat, which, over time, becomes – I apologise for such shocking, no-doubt-offensive language – "coal".

That vile stuff that will brutally throttle the planet, serial killer-style, if we don't agreeably freeze to death first.

And as Moonbat will proclaim, nibbling on a cockroach while wild-eyed in a badger sett staring into his coal-powered laptop, it would be much better if we all just died instead.

But The Leaf Crisis was preceded of course by The Flood Crisis.

Remember that one?

When it rained a bit, like it always does, in August?

When natural monsoons in lands nearer to the equator suddenly weren't natural monsoons anymore, but The Flood Crisis?

And The Flood Crisis was itself preceded by The Heat Crisis.

When 10,000 people were predicted to die in temperatures we normally spend over a grand on to fly to, in order to lay upon a sun lounger to enjoy with an icy pina colada in hand.

Pesky

Alas, those pesky 10,000 didn't die after all, much to the consternation of Moonbat. But no matter, because another crisis will be along soon enough to finish them off.

That will be The NHS Winter Crisis, aka The Sequel of The Sequel That Never Ends.

Holding hands with it in grim solidarity will be The Overall Winter Crisis in which some people might die – like people always, always, have – followed by surely the most terrifying crisis of all...

The Spring Crisis.

Which will see evil Tory racist rain pour down upon our drowning gardens, oppressively forcing terrified lawns to sprout, shy flowers to involuntarily bloom, and winsome trees to reluctantly drink.

Then it'll be The Heat Crisis again, followed by The Flood Crisis, then The Leaf Crisis, before The Sequel of The Sequel of The Sequel of The NHS Winter crisis again.

Or, as normal people used to call them, "seasons".

Migrants get new home on cruise liners

THE mayor of New York says that illegal immigrants could be housed on posh CRUISE LINERS as the city struggles with a huge influx.

New York City shelters are so overwhelmed by the migrant crisis that Mayor Eric Adams (above) is considering using the luxury boats as temporary housing.

Mayor Adams said: "We have examined everything from the legality of using any type of cruise ship for temporary housing.

"We're looking at everything to see how do we deal with this."

Adams made the suggestion just hours before The New York Post reported that a record number of nine buses carrying migrants arrived in the city.

The influx is crippling the New York shelter system, and full-time facilities are being pushed to the brink – affecting the quality of life in neighbourhoods.

The city has opened 23 emergency shelters, but there are still not enough beds.

The crisis has been caused by southern states, fed up at dealing with the flood across the border with Mexico, bussing migrants north.

Fact me!

IT only takes six minutes for brain cells to react to alcohol.

Armed cops respond to unruly goat

A GOAT got so out of control that a team of armed police was sent to detain it.

Cops said the unruly goat, nicknamed Billy, caused damage to property and chased residents around a car in Tonopah, Arizona, before deputies managed to get it under control.

As officers tried to detain Billy, the goat peed on one of the cops.

Billy was eventually restrained with special handcuffs and taken away by animal control staff.

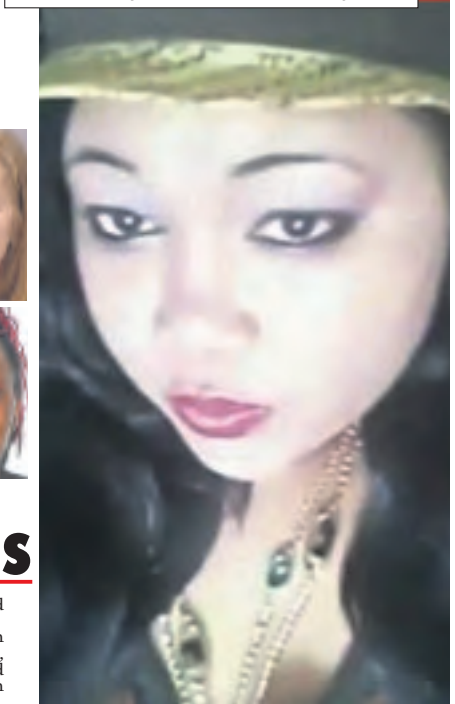

The Sheriff's Office noted how the goat's actions warrant charging the animal with assault, trespassing, criminal damage, and disorderly conduct.

DID THE SHOPPING TROLLEY KILLER MURDER SIX?

No 1 FOR CRIME

DATED: Anthony Robinson and (below) Skye Allen

VICTIMS: (L-R) Smith, Champ, Brown, Harrison and (top) Redmon

Cops link beast to more deaths

By COLIN HURST

nnews@sundaysport.co.uk

AN accused serial slayer dubbed the "Shopping Trolley Killer" has now been linked to the death of a sixth woman, whose demise was previously suspected to be the result of a heart condition.

Anthony Eugene Robinson, 35, has already been charged with the slayings of two women whose bodies were found on spare ground in Harrisonburg, Virginia, in 2021.

The accused killer has also been named a suspect in three other murders in the state and in Washington DC.

Now authorities in Prince George's County are trying to determine if Robinson played a role in the February 2018 death of 30-year-old Skye Allen, whom he dated.

Unconscious

Skye's mother, Stacey Allen, said she never believed that her daughter died from a heart condition after she found the young woman unconscious and struggling for breath inside the bedroom she shared with Robinson on Valentine's Day.

Doctors at Prince George's Hospital Centre said Skye died of cardiac arrhythmia, but her mother said she suspected Robinson of wrongdoing, and even asked him directly if he killed Skye.

"I asked him, 'Did you do something to my daughter?' He said, 'No', the mother claimed.

In November 2021, more than three years after her daughter's death, Stacey Allen said she was contacted by a detective from Rockingham County, Virginia, asking about Robinson.

The man had been arrested in connection with the killings of Allene Redmon, 54, of Harrisonburg, and Tonita Smith, 39, of Charlottesville, who were killed around October 24 and November 14.

Their bodies were discovered together on November 23 in a vacant lot next to a shopping trolley that cops said had been used to transport the bodies, earning Robinson his moniker.

In December 2021, the remains of two more women were found in a large plastic container near another shopping trolley next to the Moon Inn hotel in Fairfax County, Virginia.

They were identified as Cheyenne Brown, 29, and Stephanie Harrison, 48.

Fairfax County police have said publicly that they have linked Robinson to the killing of the two women.

Police said Robinson was staying at the Moon Inn Hotel at the time and has been linked to Brown via mobile phone and video evidence.

Since then, Robinson has been tied to the death of Sonya Champ, 40, whose body was discovered in a shopping cart in Washinton D.C. in September last year.

So far, Robinson has not been charged in the killings of Brown, Harrison or Champ.

Authorities said Robinson found his victims on dating apps like Plenty of Fish and Tagged, met them at hotels, where he hurt and then killed them, before transporting their bodies in shopping trolleys.

Maggots

A Virginia judge ruled there was sufficient probable cause to consider first-degree murder charges against Robinson for the deaths of Smith and Redmon.

Robinson's defence lawyer argued that the killings were not premeditated and asked the judge to downgrade the charges to second-degree murder.

However, prosecutors disagreed, accusing the defendant of luring the victims to their deaths, and then disposing of them.

"He used them for what he wanted, then left them rotting with the maggots," prosecutor Marsha Garsh told the court.

Authorities in Prince George's County said they have opened an investigation into Skye Allen's death, but the case is certain to present challenges because the woman's body was cremated in 2018.

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY

Dear Ashleigh,

AS a guy in his mid-20s, is it wrong for me to want to use a dildo every time I have sex?

I don't have a regular girlfriend, so my sex life always consists of one-night stands.

I happened to sleep with one girl a few times and she thought it was weird that on each occasion I brought out a huge, pink dildo and asked her to penetrate me with it.

The third time she got dressed and left and said I was in the closet and needed to come out.

I am definitely not gay – I have never had feelings for men, but I just seem to get aroused better this way.

Am I weird?

ST, Liverpool

Ashleigh says...

CERTAINLY not – lots of straight men take great pleasure from shoving things up their bums.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 19-year-old student who has just moved away from home to go to university.

Until I moved away I was having a fantastic time partying and was banging this lass whose dad owns a big boozer.

Last month we went back there after a club. It was about 2am and we went through to the pool room.

We decided to have a game and every ball we potted meant the other had to take off an item of clothing.

Before long, she was wearing just a pair of hold-up stockings, and the next ball I potted, I challenged her to lay back on the table and spread her legs.

She did and started fringing herself, and just before she came I got my dick out and clambered above her, putting my knob in her gob.

We both came and she swallowed the lot and the green baize cloth only had a few damp patches from her juices.

But last week she asked me to leave college to help her and her dad run the pub.

I'm tempted but know that getting an education means a lot to my parents, who never got the chance.

What should I do?

VF, email

Ashleigh says...

TRY it part-time. You'll earn soome cash and have more chances to shag her.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a married working mum, aged 37, and a few weeks ago I took a day off work because we were having a bedroom carpet fitted at home.

When the fitter arrived he turned out to be a gorgeous lad in his early 20s.

We began chatting and he told he was a part-time stripper nicknamed 'King Dong'.

And I could see why – his cock was bulging through the front of his tight shorts.

I couldn't take my eyes off it and he noticed the look of amazement in my eyes. Then, in a flash, he'd dropped his pants and there it was in all its glory.

Next thing I know, 15 years of being totally faithful went out the window as I sank to my knees and I proceeded to wank and suck that monster dick like my life depended on it.

I was nearly gagging at one point as I deep-throated him, but he somehow managed to push it deeper.

When he shot his load it was like swallowing a pint of milk. Then we rolled around on the bare boards and he gave me the best fking of my life.

Now I can't get this young stallion out of my mind.

What should I do?

DL, north London

Ashleigh says...

CHECK out your local pubs and clubs for male strippers.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week ASHLEIGH GEE has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

I love slipping one in after an oily massage

Dear Ashleigh,

I WORK in a pretty menial job and life's a struggle.

It has got so bad recently that after a few years off looking after the kids, the wife said she'd get a job to make ends meet.

After scanning online job sites for work, and attending a few interviews, my wife announced she'd got a job at a supermarket. Life became great – every week my wife piled in with bags full of shopping – and more cash.

Then I bumped into one of her pals who leered: "How's she doing at the massage parlour?"

Well, I couldn't believe it, but I confronted the wife and she admitted it.

Oral

I was ashamed, hurt and worried but I calmed down when she said she was earning up to £200 a night and was now able to buy all the things we'd denied ourselves before.

Then she told me of some of the services she provided.

She said she gave only hand relief and oral and never offered full sex.

After hearing the sex menu, I found myself strangely turned on.

I pulled her onto my knee as we sat on the sofa and what followed was absolutely amazing.

We slowly undressed each other, button by button, and I pulled up her jumper to kiss her 34Cs.

Then we stood up and took off the rest of our kit.

She told me to lie on my stomach on the carpet then she pulled out a bottle of oil and began rubbing my back and legs.

My dick was throbbing, so she rolled me onto my back and mounted me.

I was in heaven as I thrust away until she screamed as I brought her to orgasm.

We have sessions like this regularly now, but I still get jealous when she's out at work.

Do you think I should just try to get another, better job, so she can stay at home and service just me?

AF, email

Ashleigh says...

NO – she clearly loves her new job as much as she loves you.

Dear Ashleigh,

I'VE just had sex with my boyfriend of three months for the first time.

Although we'd done plenty of other things before, I didn't realise how small his dick was until it was inside me.

He is great with his mouth and his hands, but when it came down to actual penetration I couldn't feel a thing.

Of course, I moaned and groaned as if I was having a great time – but the truth is I could have fallen asleep.

I am really keen on this guy and don't want to lose him, so is there anything I can buy to make him bigger?

JD, Dundee

Ashleigh says...

No. Get used to it or get rid!

Dear Ashleigh,

I WOKE this morning with a raging hard-on and had a quick one off the wrist, spurting all over the missus as she lay sleeping beside me.

It's not something I normally do, but despite the wank, my erection stayed.

The wife wouldn't let me shag her and my stonker went down later but I'm certain this would have been our best-ever bonk.

Should I trade her in for a new and younger model?

CW, email

Ashleigh says...

NO, just be a bit more careful where you're shooting your jizz and I'm sure she'll let you have a leg-over again soon.

DO YOU HAVE A SEX PROBLEM?

Mail: Agony, Sunday Sport, 860 Chester Road, Stretford, Manchester M32 0QJ

Dear Ashleigh,

I'M a 34-year-old roofer with a lovely girlfriend who I plan to marry some time next year.

The other week I was called out by a pal of mine to help him with a loft conversion.

Anyway, me and my pal got going on the job and started clearing out the loft.

There were loads of boxes of photo albums and I thought there was no harm in having a flick through.

The first was of wedding snaps but in the second there were loads of old Polaroid pictures of the lady of the house in explicit PORN poses!

In the next album there were more photos of the woman being serviced by different guys.

At the end of the day, when we were getting ready to go, the woman turned up at the house wearing a tiny revealing dress.

I couldn't help but think of her with her legs spread like in the photos.

My pal had to get off but I stayed on, using the excuse of measuring up.

Then she said: "I'd like to measure you up!"

As she said it she slipped out of the dress – she had nothing on underneath and pretty soon I was pumping away at her.

Just before I was about to come, she pushed me off, grabbed a camera and took a pic of me with a stiff cock and spunking off.

Then her hubby walked in and said he'd been watching the action and wondered if my fiancée would like to see the photo!

Now they are insisting I take part in a filmed orgy with them, but I don't want to be blackmailed like this.

What should I do?

JJ, south London

Ashleigh says...

CALL their bluff – tell them to go and fk themselves, not you!

#HOT'N'

ROXY Taggart sounds like she should be a stripper from the rough end of Glasgow. But in reality, she's a porn star from the less-lovely half of former Czechoslovakia.

Roxy said: "I have natural 32E breasts and many glamour photographers begged me to go topless for them."

"I was glad to oblige and sucked one off to say 'thank you' for giving me a break."

"As he hosed me down with his hot, sticky spunk, I thought, 'Hey! I could do this for a living...'"

"So I got into porn and now I do the lot - anal, DP, S&M, and even watersports."

"Men love to see a woman with natural breasts urinating."

SPECIAL OFFER: ANY 3 PRIVATE SHOPS DVDs FOR £25 (was £75)

IT'S finally time to say goodbye to the creepy Crawleys of Downton Abbey and hello to the horny hotties of buxom Bottomley Manor!

For all you red-blooded fellas who love your porn but are bored to tears by dull Down on Abby this is your lucky day.

Released last week, the UK's most highly anticipated adult movie is available exclusively through the Sport's adult partner Private Shops and, for a limited time they're offering readers another £5 OFF the already low, low price.

Down On Abby is a big budget, full length adult masterpiece starring porn legend Ben Dover and a cast of the hottest adult stars around. It will transport you to Bottomley Manor, home to the Lord Grabhem (played by Ben Dover), his wife (and 2014 AVN nominee) Jasmine Jae, and their two young promiscuous step-daughters, Abby and Fanny.

The Grabhems have invited the Stiffies to dinner and their staff, led by butler Small and footman Master Bates, hurriedly prepare to receive their honoured guests.

But during preparations some members of staff have their own ideas of how to make the night go with a bang! As dinner approaches it seems everyone's got more than fancy nosh on their minds. Mind you, there is plenty of nosh as well as lots of other filth that will even cause a crease in Carson's keks.

We see plenty of R18 DVDs at the Sport but this one is really something special and one you MUST not miss!

This future classic stars Ava Dalush as Missy, Cathy Heaven as Lucy, Emma Leigh as Betty, Jasmine Jae as Lady Wanda Grabhem, Jasmine James as Fanny Grabhem, Jess West as Lady Stiffie, Lexi Lowe as Abby Grabhem, Ben Dover as Lord Will Grabhem, Big Bad Dave as Smithers and Clarke Kent as Master Bates.

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to the interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you are clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

CLAIRE LENG

GLAMOUR legend Claire Leng is the apple of Tommy Clarke's eye and he can't get enough of her jaw-dropping norks.

Delivery driver Tommy, 56, from Gillingham, travels up and down the country but always keeps a sexy snap of the classic babe handy.

He said: "I always keep a pic close to hand in the van, she's a real woman is Claire."

DANI THOMPSON

DELICIOUS Dani Thompson caught the eye of 29-year-old Michael Hall, from Walsall, who emailed us to request a sexy snap of the Norwich-born blonde.

Waiter Michael works in a restaurant and dreams of the day Dani walks in to have a bite to eat.

Michael said that Dani looks like his ideal woman and he would love to get his hands on her 34GG chest.

He said: "She is so sexy and bubbly. I'd love to find myself a woman like that, or even take the real deal out on a date!"

Well, here you go
Colin, enjoy!

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper! Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

HOME BOY:
Parker is hugged by White after their clash

It's Man United for Kiwi Parker

JOSEPH Parker has teased heavyweight rival Joe Joyce by warning the Briton some of the crowd at Manchester's AO Arena will be supporting him.

The duo go head-to-head in an eagerly-awaited clash on Saturday where the winner will move a step closer to a world title shot. While London-born Joyce is the home fighter, this will be his first time at the Manchester venue.

New Zealander Parker will be eyeing a fourth consecutive win at the arena and having spent most of the last 18 months living in Morecambe, he feels a strong Lancashire following—including "brother" Tyson Fury—will be there to back him this weekend.

"That is my arena. Three wins, Hughie Fury, Derek Chisora and Derek again, so I'm going to make it four," Parker (30-2, 21KOs) said. "I know the UK supporters have been very good to me, very welcoming so I feel this is another home for me."

"I do know when I fight one of their own, they support their own but there will be some I have taken as my own and will be cheering for me."

This will be the sixth time Parker has fought in the UK

By MIKE FRANCIS

with his most notable contest taking place in 2018 at the Principality Stadium where he lost on points to Anthony Joshua in a world title fight.

England has largely been home to the 30-year-old since the coronavirus pandemic after he struck up a strong bond with Fury, who is set to face Joshua in an all-British blockbuster affair later this year despite suggesting on several previous occasions he is retiring.

Parker said of his training partner: "Tyson is at most training sessions, we go for runs and he's in the gym."

"He lets Andy Lee teach me, train me and come up with game plans but he adds his advice when and where he can. When he is in the gym, he brings this positive vibe and good energy so it is always good to have Tyson in the gym. In his own gym that I have now made my own!"

"It will be good to see Fury vs Joshua. Tyson has retired multiple times and come back but I think he will be here a while in the boxing game. He still has a lot to give."

Parker has been trained by Lee since last year and has two wins from two under the guidance of his new team.

The long-term goal for the experienced boxer is becoming world champion again and whoever wins in Manchester will be mandatory challenger to Oleksandr Usyk but a rematch clause has been inserted by Joyce's camp.

"The rematch I don't think should happen unless you are champion," Parker insisted.

"I think they just needed it to feel they are keeping their position as mandatory or number one but that is how much I back myself."

"I locked in the fight, I know what it takes to beat him, I know I can beat him and if he wants a rematch and another beating, I'll give him another chance to lose again."

Goal

"Two-time world champion is further down the line. I can see myself being champion again but that is not the goal."

"I know what it takes but it is about being involved in these fights, winning these fights, winning well and being involved in exciting fights."

If Parker can see off Joyce (14-0, 13KOs), it could open the door for more contests with other British boxers.

He added: "Fighting Dillian again to avenge the loss I had, or fighting Joshua would be good, but none of those will ever work or happen if I don't get rid of this guy first."

VAN REWVED UP FOR WORLD CUP

LIVERPOOL defender Virgil van Dijk insists he is not haunted by his Euro 2020 injury heartbreak as the countdown begins to his first World Cup.

The Netherlands captain, whose country's failure to qualify for Russia in 2018 followed a similar fate for the European Championship two years previously, has yet to play in a major tournament.

A knee injury in a Merseyside derby in October 2020 meant he missed the Covid-delayed 2020 Euros so, at the age of 31, Qatar could potentially be his one and only chance to feature in a World Cup.

But the Dutchman has no apprehension about the next couple of months and will certainly not be holding back in club matches in an attempt to safeguard his immediate future.

"I can only speak for myself and I wouldn't worry about me," said Van Dijk, who will lead his country in Nations League matches against Poland and Belgium over the next week.

"I want to go but to be ready, in my opinion, is not to focus on hopefully not getting injured, it is just to keep playing, get fit, stay fit and get in a good moment."

"If you think about this (getting injured), I think you are going to have issues in my opinion.

By PAUL THOMAS

"It is just game-by-game and that includes international football. For me it is two games against Poland and Belgium and then it is Brighton, so that will be the focus. I'm not focusing on what is happening in November."

Van Dijk spent 10 months on the sidelines after a tackle by Everton's England goalkeeper Jordan Pickford ruptured knee ligaments.

He returned for the start of the 2021-22 campaign and, despite concerns over how quickly he would get back to his best, he was a key part of the run towards an unprecedented quadruple which saw Liverpool win the FA and Carabao Cups, reach the Champions League final and take the title race to the last 15 minutes of the season.

Difference

Liverpool's start this year has been a stuttering one with two defeats – already half the number they had in 63 matches last season – and three draws in eight games.

The players' form – including Van Dijk's – has been sketchy, but the centre-back does not believe the prospect of the World Cup coming mid-season is the reason.

"Not at all, not at all. I can assure you that is definitely not the case," he added.

"We are not in the situation because of that. I understand, because of the start we had, everyone is looking for 'Why?' because the difference (to last season) is too big, but I can assure you that is not one of the reasons."

"You focus on the game at the time and that's definitely what we're doing."

SAM ON TARGET FOR ENGLAND

By ANDY MILLOM

CATALANS Dragons coach Steve McNamara is confident England captain Sam Tomkins will be fit for the World Cup and expects the home nation to enjoy a successful tournament.

The 33-year-old Tomkins missed four of the Dragons' last seven matches of the SuperLeague season, largely with a knee injury that has dogged him for over 12 months, but, according to McNamara, will be managed to ensure he gets through the World Cup.

"He's in England getting checked out by the medical staff and they're happy," said McNamara, who coached the national team in the last home World Cup in 2013.

"He's had some ongoing problems but he's getting closer to getting to the bottom of all of those."

"He knows the work he needs to do to keep it as strong as he can, there's nothing major there with Sam that will stop him."

"There's a short-term plan into the World Cup and a long-term plan for him going into next season and we're comfortable with that."

McNamara says Tomkins is a victim of a long and arduous domestic season that takes its toll at this time of the year.

"His knee has been the issue but we finished late last year after getting to the Grand Final and the season started early so there was little time for proper preparation," he said.

"We've seen it at most clubs, the season has taken its toll on everybody."

"World Cup year is not ideal but next season is starting a bit later – but there will be a couple more weeks for him to recuperate after the World Cup."

Tomkins, who led England to victory over the Combined Nations All Stars in June, will be the first name on Shaun Wane's 24-man squad when he submits it to World Cup organisers by the end of the week but there will be some notable absentees, including prop Alex Walmsley who is out with a foot injury.

McNamara is upbeat about England's prospects as they prepare for a potentially tricky opener against Samoa at Newcastle's St James' Park on October 15.

"I think they'll do really well," he said. "They're on home soil and thinking back to 2013, the crowds were full for every game."

"And they have got a good team."

ASCOT AIM: Varian

Dragon fired up for Ascot

HORSERACING

DRAGON Symbol is likely to head to the British Champions Sprint Stakes at Ascot on October 15 following his pleasing run in the Curragh's Flying Five earlier this month.

The four-year-old has had an indifferent year since switching to Roger Varian ahead of the current campaign, but a confidence-boosting victory in a first-time hood at Hamilton has signalled an upturn in his fortunes and following a respectable fifth in the Nunthorpe on his next start, he produced arguably his best performance of the season in Ireland.

Drawn on the wrong side of the track and also missing the break, he kept on resolutely in the closing stages to finish best of the lowest-drawn runners, beaten only five lengths by the prolific Highfield Princess.

Varian believes that performance can be upgraded slightly and with confidence restored, he has the option of moving back up to six furlongs for further Group One action on British Champions Day.

"He's had no luck really with the draw," said Varian. "He was on the wrong side and he just slightly missed the break, which you can't afford to do over five furlongs."

"It was a very good run and I thought he almost ran second best to be honest. Highfield Princess is obviously very good, but I thought had he been drawn higher, he could have nearly been second."

"He seems to be finishing his season strong and he'll likely go for the Champions Sprint at Ascot on British Champions Day."

Varian's team are in fine form at present and having scooped Classic honours with Eldar Eldarov in the St Leger, the handler sent out seven winners on Saturday.

The yard also registered an across-the-card double in midweek when half-brothers Bayside Boy and Lord Of Biscay scored at Sandown and Yarmouth respectively. It was a welcome return to form for the former, who was a high-class two-year-old last year, while the latter looks a smart prospect from the Carlburg Stables production line.

"It was good to get Bayside Boy back in the winner's enclosure, he should bounce forward from that now," added Varian.

CELTIC BOSS BACKS FULL-BACK TO FILL ROBERTSON'S BOOTS

GO FOR IT
GREG: Taylor has been tipped for the top by his club boss

CELTIC manager Ange Postecoglou, has hailed Greg Taylor's drive to better himself as he fights for a place in Scotland's team.

The then-Kilmarnock player was 21 when he made his Scotland debut under former Rugby Park boss Steve Clarke in a 3-0 Euro Championship qualifying defeat in Belgium in June 2019.

Competition with Kieran Tierney and Andy Robertson has limited Taylor to seven caps but the absence of the injured Liverpool captain could see the Celtic player brought in for Wednesday's Hampden clash with Ukraine.

Tierney could be a straight replacement after starting four of Arsenal's last five matches, all of them victories, but his absence from Scotland's back three in June – when he was recovering from knee surgery – was a major factor in the stuttering progress.

Clarke devised his system to accommodate Tierney and

By JOHN ANTHONY

Robertson in the same team and his back three lacks flexibility and drive when the Gunners defender is not there.

Six players featured in the back three during June – Grant Hanley, who has withdrawn from the squad, Liam Cooper, Scott McTominay, John Souttar, Scott McKenna and Jack Hendry – and Scotland conceded seven goals.

Taylor's form in Champions League games could provide Clarke with the chance to move Tierney into that back division and give his former Kilmarnock player the opportunity to continue at wing-back after starting in the 4-1 win in Armenia.

Postecoglou said: "He is going really well. He is improving, because he wants to improve."

"He is one of those players who I think maybe in the past people put in a certain box and classified as a certain kind of player or for a certain kind of level."

"But as I keep saying for all our footballers, that's up to them to change that perception with improvement in everything they do, physically, mentally, on and off the pitch."

"Greg comes in every day wanting to be better, and I think he has seen the fruits of his labour. His performances are continually improving and he has done exceptionally well for us so far this year, including in the Champions League games."

"But he's only 24. A lot of our players' best years are ahead of them. As long as they maintain that mindset of improvement, who knows what they can reach?"

"The dangers come when they get sort of comfortable and plateau in a certain space but Greg is not one of those guys. Since I have been here, he has embraced the culture and environment and wants to be the best footballer he can be."

With goalie Craig Gordon set to shake off a knee knock, Clarke's major decisions look to be in defence and whether to use Tierney and McTominay in the back three.

McKenna has played regularly for Premier League newcomers Nottingham Forest but Hendry has not had many minutes either side of a loan move from Club Brugge to Cremonese. Souttar and Cooper are both absent with Hibernian's Ryan Porteous in as back-up.

Nathan Patterson looks set to feature at right wing-back after an impressive start to the season with Everton, although Aaron Hickey has also been starting regularly there for Brentford. Anthony Ralston's performances were a major plus in June but he has largely started on the bench for Celtic this season.

Clarke has a wealth of options in midfield including Kenny McLean and Ryan Jack, who both missed the summer schedule, while Che Adams looks likely to start up front against Ukraine after hitting four goals for Southampton already. Lyndon Dykes has not scored in eight matches.

But with three games inside a week, Clarke will need to rotate his squad for the final two Nations League games against the Republic of Ireland at Hampden and Ukraine away in Krakow.

Norwich defender Hanley has been joined by Rangers goalkeeper Jon McLaughlin and Stoke forward Jacob Brown in pulling out of the latest squad.

Robby McCrorie, McLaughlin's Rangers team-mate, is the only player called up.

IT'S FAB TO GET SCORING

FABIO Vieira hopes his stunning goal at Brentford is the first of many for table-topping Arsenal.

The £34million summer signing from Porto has had a slow start to his Gunners career after suffering an injury in pre-season.

But he made up for lost time on his first Premier League start with a fine finish from the edge of the box to wrap up a 3-0 win in west London. "I'm really happy, of course, to score my first goal with this club," the Portuguese midfielder said.

"We've started this season really well and we need to keep doing this."

"Everybody plays, everybody knows what they have to do on the pitch and we need to keep doing this."

Arsenal were back at the scene of their dismal 2-0 opening-day defeat last season which prompted their worst start to a campaign for 67 years.

But they are a different animal this term and proved it with an organised, inventive display and three well-taken goals from William Saliba, Gabriel Jesus and Vieira.

A record was broken during the game as Ethan Nwaneri came off the bench to make his Arsenal debut aged just 15 years and 181 days.

That broke the record for the youngest Premier League player held by Liverpool's Harvey Elliott who was 16 years and 30 days old when he made his debut.

By PAUL THOMAS

Granit Xhaka reckons the young midfielder will need handling with kid gloves – but he has what it takes to go far.

Xhaka said: "We have to check the passport first! I am joking!"

"To have a guy who is 15, who is 15 years younger than me...he looks old when I see him but the club can be proud of a player like him."

"He has a big future, if I am honest, I am doing my coaching licence and I have trained the Under-16s."

"You can see a big difference with him and the other guys. He is very, very special."

Quality

"Of course you have to protect him as he is very young but if he keeps going like this with his hard work he has a big, big future."

"I spoke with one Brentford guy and I told him this guy was 15 and he looked at me and said: 'F me, we are looking old!'"

"So yes, of course, when you have 15 years difference you think: 'Okay the time is not gone but it is on the way'."

"But we are enjoying him, he is enjoying us as he has the quality."

"If I am honest, he is not with us a lot in training. I have maybe seen him twice or three times now."

"But he is very shy, of course, but the time will come when he will be more with us, but you have to protect him and help him."

"Football is not everything for him and for us but yes, the club will help him and the experienced players have to help him."

PANIC OVER:
Vieira has finally got off the mark

TOFFEES SO SWEET FOR GRAY

By ANDY MILLOM

EVERTON winger Demarai Gray insists there is a different attitude within the squad after last season's relegation scare.

The 1-0 victory over West Ham courtesy of summer signing Neal Maupay's first goal since February saw the Toffees register their first victory after four successive draws.

But Gray admits it was a match they probably would have lost last season when confidence was low and defensive frailty was an underlying trait.

However, the signings of centre-backs Conor Coady and James Tarkowski, plus the return of Idrissa Gana Gueye from Paris St Germain to play the holding role in midfield means even without the services of main striker Dominic Calvert-Lewin the team is able to get results.

"Mentally it is massive for the team. The spirit is really good even though we hadn't won a game in the Prem," said Gray.

"There's a different feeling around the players, there is confidence and there is energy in the camp and I think you have seen that in our performances: we are stronger and look more solid and more of a threat. We would concede a goal last season and our heads would drop."

"The fans might have been affected by it as well and collectively we were in that kind of rut which was difficult to get out of."

"We showed our character right at the end of the season by staying up and surviving but I think this season there is a completely different feel in the squad."

"Having a fresh start we realise this is a big opportunity for us."

"We have signed some players who have been massive for the team and have made us a lot stronger."

"There's a lot more natural confidence within the team and the standard in training has gone up as well and that is where everything starts."

"I think a lot of our results, even the draws, we wouldn't have got those last season so it shows the growth in the side and it's a positive. I think we are on the right path."

"It's a long season and we are going to have ups and downs but you have that sense that although things might not be going too well we still have the attitude and mentality in the side that we will be strong and together."

CROCKED: Hugo Lloris

Lloris a big derby doubt for Spurs

TOTTENHAM captain Hugo Lloris has emerged as an injury concern ahead of next month's north London derby at Arsenal.

Lloris impressed during Saturday's 6-2 win over Leicester, making a crucial save to deny Patson Daka in the second half that prevented the visitors from drawing level at 3-3.

The 35-year-old linked up with the French national team on Monday ahead of this week's Nations League fixtures with Austria and Denmark but has since left their camp in Clairefontaine.

He has been diagnosed with an injury to his right thigh, which will concern Spurs boss Antonio Conte with a trip to Arsenal on the horizon for October 1.

"Arriving on Monday morning at the National Football Centre in Clairefontaine, Hugo Lloris consulted Dr Franck Le Gall," a statement from the French Football Federation read.

"A small injury to the right thigh has been diagnosed for the Tottenham goalkeeper.

"He is therefore unavailable for the two matches against Austria on Thursday at the Stade de France and in Denmark on Sunday."

Lloris is the second Tottenham player to pull out of international duty after Ben Davies was forced to withdraw from the Wales squad following an injury to his knee.

He also faces a race against time to be fit to face Arsenal.

United get ripped off

MAN United have racked up the biggest overspend on transfer fees in the last decade among clubs in Europe's 'big five' leagues.

The Red Devils' outlay on 33 transfers between July 2012 and November 2021 was £209m greater than the estimated value of those players under a statistical model developed by the CIES Football Observatory. Juventus and Paris St Germain were found to be the two clubs with the next highest overspends, at £205m and £142m respectively.

Aston Villa registered the second-highest overspend among English clubs at £130m followed by Chelsea on £118m.

Wolves have underpaid by £6.5m

BELGIAN WANTS TEAM-MATE KEVIN

GET OFF JACK'S BACK!

Kevin De Bruyne insists Grealish can do his talking on the pitch for the Champs

KEVIN De Bruyne believes Jack Grealish's critics are too focused on his personal life as he backed the England midfielder to deliver.

Belgium international De Bruyne reckons the spotlight is on his £100million Manchester City team-mate because of his nationality and, if he was a foreign player, he would be left to adapt.

Grealish scored his first goal of the season in Saturday's 3-0 Premier League triumph at 10-man Wolves.

The 27-year-old had come under fire for a lack of goals and assists – it was just his fourth top-flight strike since joining City from boyhood club Aston Villa in August 2021 – but De Bruyne feels some of the criticism is only because he is English.

"Yes, it is not about football," he said. "Outside of football, the focus is more on the English players. I understand because they are English and people tend to look more what is happening.

"I feel like foreign players, for instance, if you have a night out, we don't really get checked that often. Whereas I feel if an English player goes out, it is always in the media somewhere.

Worried

"I think people are taking this on board. What he does in his private life, nobody should care, but people do."

"I don't feel anybody necessarily thinks about how he felt moving away for the first time and people think it is always easy to do that."

"But there are a lot of obstacles coming around with moving clubs and houses and whatever. You know obviously he needed some time to settle in but he is fine. Be patient, I am not too worried."

Grealish scored after just 53 seconds at Molineux before Erling Haaland and Phil Foden made it a comfortable win which took City top before Arsenal's 3-0 victory at Brentford on Sunday sent them back to the summit.

Former Villa captain Grealish, who was on the receiving end of a reckless waist-high lunge which saw Wolves defender Nathan Collins sent off in the first half, acknowledged after the game that judgement on his lack of end product was fair.

But De Bruyne continued: "If you set certain standards for yourself, everyone is going to measure you to these standards."

"With all due respect, he was at Villa before and if you lose a game sometimes it is not the end of the world. But if we lose a game it is different."

"We have to perform every week and win games. That is the difference and what he has had to adjust to. As long as we win the games and he is doing a good job for us, that is all that matters."

"Obviously you want to score and get assists, but it is not the end of the world."

De Bruyne's two assists for Grealish and Foden against the Villans saw him equal Steven Gerrard's Premier League total of 92 assists – in 287 fewer games.

Surgery

"It is good to help my team," he said.

"I tried to create as many chances as possible for my team and if they score I will get an assist."

"It works together and it is good I can do that. I have been doing the same thing since I came here. It is still going on."

Meanwhile, Pep Guardiola feels Calvin Phillips can still make the

KEPT OUT OF THE SPOTLIGHT

STAR MAN: Phil Foden hails Jack Grealish after he hit the target

World Cup after it was confirmed the midfielder may need shoulder surgery on the injury which forced him out of this month's England squad.

"I think so but I am not a doctor," Guardiola said. "The doctor has said the only solution right now is to do what he has to do."

"Every time it is dislocated and the doctor says when you have been out three or four times with the shoulder, the only solution is to make a surgery."

Guardiola has also spoken about how pleased he was to see Haaland and Julian Alvarez combining well against Wolves.

Pep has not started the two forwards together yet but clearly feels it's an option he will be exploring soon.

The Spaniard said: "It is the second time I see Julian and Erling together in the last minutes against Wolves. I like it together. A little bit more aggressive. It depends on them, the performance, the connection with them, they look at each other, they connected really well, so Erling passed to Julian and Julian to Erling in the short passes in that moment, they are not selfish, they look for each other."

And Guardiola says all players in the squad will be playing a major part with so many games coming up before the World Cup.

He added: "With this crazy schedule, we need everyone, and now with five substitutions the impact from the bench and mentality is in the right position."

"Normally the people from the bench when they play bad it is because they are not here, they are complaining, but when they are there with a good impact they can help us because the quality is there."

"We need fresh players and this is a good sign."

GUNNERS PICK LOC

Arsenal on trail of Juventus midfielder

ARSENAL will make another move for Juventus midfielder Manuel Locatelli.

The Gunners were close to signing the 24-year-old last summer but he chose to stay with the Serie A giants instead. Now Locatelli has fallen down the pecking order in Turin and would be open to switching to the table-topping Londoners. Juventus have the Italy international on loan from Sassuolo but are obliged to pay £31m for him to make the move permanent at the end of this season. Arsenal will offer to pay that fee instead and have Locatelli switch to them.

Gunners gaffer Mikel Arteta has made a policy of buying younger players and Locatelli would be an ideal replacement for the older Granit Xhaka who would then be allowed to leave.

Arsenal are looking for a solid central midfielder given that Thomas Partey has largely disappointed since his £45m move to the club two summers ago.

The Gunners will face competition from Brighton as their new manager Roberto De Zerbi brought Locatelli through when he was in charge of Sassuolo but Arsenal will expect to win that battle.
